

JAMES J. HILL CENTER GUIDE TO COMPANY RESEARCH

80 West Fourth Street | Saint Paul, MN 55102
PH: (651) 265-5500 | EMAIL: info@jjhill.org
www.jjhill.org

"Guide to Company Research" is a proprietary product of the James J. Hill Center. Updated March 2017. © Copyright 2017. All rights are reserved.

INTRODUCTION

Whether you're interviewing for a job or learning about your competitors, it is often necessary to perform in-depth research on individual companies.

The James J. Hill Center has the practical resources you need to budget or value your business. For further information and other sources, call our front desk at 651-265-5500, or email us at info@jjhill.org.

SOURCES FOR GENERAL COMPANY RESEARCH

These sources can be used to research companies in the U.S.

AtoZ

Subscription database available at the Hill Library

AtoZ provides general information about companies in the U.S., giving an executive directory, contact information, number of employees, annual revenue, industry, year established, corporate family tree, and more.

For more information on using AtoZ, check out our Guide to Using AtoZ.

EBSCO

Subscription database available at the Hill Library

EBSCO contains articles about companies from news sources, trade publications, and industry journals. It can be used to keep up to date on any recent developments involving the company.

For more information on using EBSCO, check out our Guide to Using EBSCO.

ProQuest Newsstand

Subscription database available at the Hill Library

ProQuest Newsstand contains news publications about companies. It can be used to keep updated on any recent developments involving the company.

For more information on using ProQuest Newsstand, check out our Guide to Using ProQuest Newsstand.

Minneapolis/Saint Paul Business Journal

Available at the Hill Library in print and electronic copy

The Business Journal can be used to learn about local companies, keeping you updated on any news or developments.

For more information on using the Business Journal and Book of Lists, check out our Guide to Using the Minneapolis-St. Paul Business Journal and Book of Lists.

SOURCES FOR SPECIALIZED COMPANY RESEARCH

These sources can be used to research private companies, hospitals, nonprofits, or companies with foreign connections.

Uniworld

Subscription database available at the Hill Library

Uniworld can be used to research American companies that have branches in foreign countries, or foreign companies that have branches in the U.S.

For more information on using Uniworld, check out our Guide to Using Uniword.

GuideStar

Subscription database available at the Hill Library

GuideStar can be used to gather in-depth information about nonprofit companies in the U.S.

For more information on using GuideStar, check out our Guide to Using GuideStar.

PrivCo

Subscription database available at the Hill Library

PrivCo can be used to gather in-depth information about private companies and private market investors.

For more information on using PrivCo, check out our Guide to Using PrivCo.

American Hospital Directory

Subscription database available at the Hill Library

The American Hospital Directory can be used to learn in-depth information about hospitals in the U.S.

For more information on using the American Hospital Directory, check out our Guide to Using the American Hospital Directory.

Questions?

651-265-5500 / www.jjhill.org / info@jjhill.org